Basically, this is a collection of ice cream, fruit, and candy recipes. If you do not have an ice cream maker, the first part is useless. People seem not to have the patience or interest in doing good desserts with fruit. The candy stuff is really good, but hopelessly out of date. In general, the recipes will probably not be of general interest ...

Our love story with everything sweet and decadent began in 1921, when Peter George Poulos opened an ice cream parlor on the North Side. The shop became known as Margie's Candies in 1933, when Poulos' son George Peter Poulos married his sweetheart, Margie Michaels.making their son Peter George, our current owner, was born in 1936 and grew up in the store — literally.

Cute little ice cream, candy and gifts shop on the beach front. Prices reflect the area. Staff was very nice and greeted us right away. Fudge was delicious, didn't have that grainy sugar texture when you make it wrong. 2 people got ice cream and said it was very good. I had a bite and it did not taste at all like store bought which is a good thing.
